

Wellbeing improves with reduced amphetamine-type stimulants use

This information is from the latest alcohol and other drug outcome measure using matched pairs. Matched pairs refers to ADOM treatment start and end collections for the same person, which shows progress in those items. The period for this infographic is for pairs ending between 1 January 2017 to 31 December 2019, for tāngata whai ora who started treatment with amphetamine-type stimulants as the main substance of concern.

Amphetamine-type stimulants use

Change in the number of days of amphetamine-type stimulants use out of 28 days

Lifestyle and wellbeing

Most items shows a significant improvement:

At least weekly problems with

Physical health

Mental health

Friend/Family arguments

Meaningful activity

Housing

Criminal Activity

Start ●

End ●

At least weekly engage with

Work/study or caregiving engagement

Recovery goals achieved

Where 10 is the best possible score there is a clear improvement in where tāngata whai ora wanted to be with their recovery.

How close are you to where you want to be in your recovery

